Welcome to a Brighter Future.

A message from the CEO

Dear Reader,

As Hanukkah is just behind us and the end of 2020 looms, there is much to think about. Our world has changed so significantly in the past year. During these strange and uncertain times, I hope that many of you, our close friends and supporters, have benefitted from the dozens of webinars and zooms we have held since March as we brought our esteemed faculty, prominent alumni and even some famous faces to your screens.

While we all hope that our old ways of life will resume in the coming months with vaccinations being rolled out, we look forward to continue bringing you insights into what is happening at TAU, be it leading cancer research from the lab of Prof Dan Peer or new partnerships such as that of the Moshe Dayan Center for Middle Eastern and African Studies with the Trends Research Advisory Center in Abu Dhabi.

All of us at TAU Trust are grateful for your continued interest in our work and most recently for your help in assisting our most vulnerable students by supporting our emergency student scholarship campaign HERE.

Until our webinar programme resumes in 2021, we wish you a happy, healthy and safe holiday season.

Shabbat shalom,

Cara G. Case

Chief Executive

I wish to take this opportunity to give my thanks to the wonderful team of Admas Program For Students Of The Ethiopian Community.

Everytime a problem arises , I always receive a quick response, warm and supportive. It is not taken for granted that in a big system such as the university there is a program that truly sees you.

Music for Dialogue

We recently hosted a moving webinar featuring TAU's Dr Ori Leshman who discussed a unique social and educational programme at TAU's School of Education that he co-founded with TAU Governor Aviad Meitar, called Music for Dialogue. This programme uses music as a catalyst for participants to open up emotionally and increase empathy towards the "other". It was fascinating to see how youth at risk are encouraged to speak through the message of music.
