

With the summer holidays drawing to a close and a new year approaching, we are busy planning both new and returning events and experiences. The year promises to be an exciting one, with our much anticipated University for a Night, showcasing visiting faculty at the cutting-edge of their fields, making its return. Watch this space for further details in the coming months.

The past year has been an eventful one, and we are grateful for your support. As students new and old embark on another year of academic excellence, we look forward to sharing developments from the university and bringing a taste of the TAU spirit to our shores.

From curing brain cancer in mice to the recent archaeological discovery of a prehistoric titanic tusk, TAU continues to be part of breaking news. And with TAU's launch of Israel's first scholarship program for international student-athletes, the new year is already off to a running start, promising to progress in leaps and bounds!

Shabbat Shalom,

Cara G. Case
Chief Executive
