TEL AVIV UNIVERSITY TRUST

Event Booking Terms and Conditions

Last updated: November 2026

These terms apply whenever you book, register for, or reserve a place at an event run by Tel Aviv University Trust ("TAU Trust", "we", "us"), whether the event is free or asks for a requested donation, in person or online. They sit alongside our Website Terms and Conditions and Privacy Policy, and take precedence over those in the event of any conflict on booking matters.

Making a booking

A booking is only confirmed once we have accepted your registration and, for events with a requested donation, received that donation in full. We may limit the number of places or guests per booking, and reserve the right to decline any booking at our discretion.

- Free events: your place is confirmed by email once registered; we may operate a waiting list if an event is oversubscribed.
- Events with a requested donation: the requested donation is taken at the time of booking by card through our website or booking platform.

Age, guest, and access restrictions

Some events are 18+, invite-only, or otherwise restricted (for example, by capacity, dress code, or venue access requirements). Any such restriction will be stated on the event page or in your booking confirmation, and we reserve the right to refuse entry if it is not met. Plus-ones or additional guests are only included where the booking expressly allows this.

Cancellations, transfers, and no-shows

Bookings are non-refundable and non-transferable once confirmed, including where you are unable to attend or do not attend (a "no-show"). This applies to both free and events with a requested donation.

If you can no longer attend, please let us know so we can offer your place to someone else, there is no obligation on us to refund or transfer, but we're always happy to hear from you.

Changes or cancellation by us

We may need to change event details — date, time, venue, format, or speakers — or, exceptionally, cancel an event altogether. We will give as much notice as we reasonably can.

- If we cancel an event, we will offer a full refund of any donation made, or, where you agree, a transfer to an alternative event.
- We are not liable for any other costs you may have incurred in connection with the event (for example, travel or accommodation), except where required by law.

Conduct at events

We expect all attendees to behave respectfully towards other guests, speakers, and staff. We may refuse admission, or ask someone to leave, if their behaviour is disruptive, unlawful, or puts others at risk, without any obligation to refund.

Photography and filming

We photograph and/or film all our events and may also livestream some events for TAU Trust's promotional, fundraising, and reporting purposes. Where we do this, we rely on our legitimate interests in promoting our charitable work.

Please let us know in advance if you'd prefer not to be included, as photography and/or filming takes place at all our events. If you don't get the chance to do this beforehand, you can also let a member of staff know when you arrive. We will take reasonable steps to avoid including you, or exclude you from published material on request. If you are attending with, or bringing, anyone under 18, please make us aware so we can take extra care.

Liability

Nothing in these terms limits our liability for death or personal injury caused by our negligence, or for fraud. Subject to that, we are not liable for any indirect or consequential loss arising from an event, or from any change to or cancellation of an event, to the fullest extent permitted by law. This does not affect your statutory rights as a consumer.
